Corporate identity

Your company needs an identity that stands out from the crowd - instantly informing people what you are about and who you are aiming at. Maybe you need a new logo for a new millennium?

Graphic design

Letterheads, compliment slips, business cards, brochures, folders and any other printed stuff... all designed to match your corporate identity.

Web design

In today's electronic world you need a website which reflects your company.

I can plan, design, build, host, promote and maintain your unique website. Search engine performance monitoring and domain name advice and registration complete the services available. From little to large, the quality of a Designer Mark website will shine through.
